

Multimodal AI Hackathon 2026 - Submission Guidelines

Your Devpost submission must include all four components before the submission deadline:

1. Project description on your Devpost project page: Describe what you built, the problem it solves, and how your solution works.
2. Source code/documentation: a link to a public GitHub repository containing your source code and documentation. The repository must include a README with setup instructions, prerequisites/dependencies, and instructions for running the project.
3. Demo video: 3 to 10 minutes on YouTube. Unlisted is fine. Private is not. The video must show the project running and explain your approach. English audio or English subtitles required.
4. Team information: all team members using their real full names. Every teammate must have a Devpost account and must be added to the submission. Members who are not added to the Devpost submission will not appear on the project page and may not receive a certificate.

NOTE: Teams are 1-4 people. Going solo is completely fine, but most strong submissions come from teams.
